The area south of the [REDACTED] is not been mapped in any detail. [REDACTED] has done considerable mapping of the northern half of the country, however, and maps of that area are much more complete.

The American Geographical Society (Broadway at 156th Street, New York, New York, 10032) produced a map of the area in question in 1932, and I believe their series was updated in the early 60's. The series and appropriate sheet numbers are listed below:

South America, 1:1,000,000 series

Two other series that may be of interest are the USAF Operational Navigation Charts (ONC) and the USAF Jet Navigation Charts (JN). The Air Charts are on public sale through the Coast and Geodetic Survey, Room 200, Building 14, 4200 Connecticut Avenue, N. W. The charts covering the area in question would be ONC [REDACTED] (scale: 1:1,000,000) and JN 62 (scale: 1:2,000,000).

The Government of [REDACTED] has published maps of the area in question that contain a little more detail than the charts mentioned above. Copies might be available from the [REDACTED] Government. STATINTL
